

Lions are my favorite animals, and to me, they represent strength and courage. I created this painting to remind me to be bold, have strength, courage, and never give up. This painting represents traits that Cystic Fibrosis patients need to have in order to keep fighting.