I love getting out into nature and finding simple but beautiful things to take photos of. This photo was taken

New York City, New York in the summer of 2023 on a linear park called the High Line. I remember to appreciate the simple and beautiful things in life when I see this.

This image was taken at sunset in the summer of 2023 on a hiking trail on Signal Mountain, Tennessee. I went hiking with my dad and took this picture on our little adventure.

This picture represents, to me, the importance of family.

This image was taken on the beach around Ocean Grove, New Jersey in the late summer of 2023. My family and I went here and liked the beautiful Victorian houses, the ice cream, the wind, the pier, and just simply walking on the beach. I like to remember the soothing sounds of the waves, the smell of the salt, and the “caw-caws” of the birds when I see this photo.

This image was taken from an airplane leaving McGhee Tyson Airport in Tennessee. I was headed to New York City with a friend, and I was excited for the adventure that was about to occur. I associate this photo with the beauty of clouds, sunrises, and rolling hills and mountains.

This image was taken at Bald River Falls in Tennessee. I went here on a solo trip in June 2022 to clear my mind with the sounds, smells, and sensations of a drive through the mountains to a waterfall. I experimented with long exposure to capture this photo, which makes the water appear silky and smooth.
